COUNCIL CHAMBER
Augusta, Mar 6 1884

The undersigned Committee of the Executive Council appointed in accordance with the following Resolve of the Legislature, approved March 1[illegible] 1883, hereby solicit proposals from cities towns and individuals as an inducement to the location of a new Insane Hospital.

"Resolve for the appointment of a committee of the Executive Council to solicit proposals for the location of a new Insane Hospital.

Whereas, The Insane hospital is now full and overflowing with patients, and has been enlarged from time to time so that it will soon be necessary to establish another insane hospital; therefore,

Resolved, That the governor and council appoint a committee from their own number to solicit proposals from cities, towns and individuals as an inducement to the location of said hospital, to procure plans of said hospital, and an estimate of the cost of the same, to consider the best method for the State to adopt in its construction, and any other matter legitimately connected therewith and submit a report upon the whole matter to the next legislature during the first week of its session."

Such proposals sealed and with the signatures of the contents endorsed on envelopes, will be received up to June 20th, 1884, by the Secretary of State, Augusta, Maine.

STATE NEWS

Androscoggin

E. P. Ricker, the genial host of the Poland Spring House, presented a barrel of Poland Spring water to Col. Henry M. Sprague, for the use of the delegates to the Chicago convention, on the train leaving Boston, Friday evening.

Cumberland

It is reported that trains will commence running over the new track of the Boston & Maine Railroad this week. There is now a double track road from Portland to Old Orchard.

A large delegation from the Boys' Literary Society of the Portland Y. M. C. A. with a number of invited friends, gave an entertainment at the Reform School Friday evening. The inmates of the institution gathered in the chapel and listened to the interesting exercises with much appreciation. Several vociferous encores were given. The program consisted of musical and literary selections, concluding with a magic lantern exhibition. The boys are to be congratulated on the success of the evening in furnishing not only amusement, but much of instruction to the unfortunate youth confined in this school.

The Portland Railroad Company had a narrow escape from another serious accident Friday, an accident similar in character to that of last Winter. The car which left for Deering about 2.45 p. m., was crowded with people, so full in fact, that the attention of bystanders was called to the slipping of the car on the rails before the order to leave the head of Preble street was given. It was reported that the brake was broken before the car started, but the driver denied the statement. At all events, after the car started it went down the grade of Preble street so fast that two ladies became frightened and fainted. When Portland street was reached the car couldn't be turned as its impetus was so great, and it left the iron and plunged across the street into the fence attached to Mr. J. P. Boothby's house. As the car left the rails, the driver had presence of mind to pull the pin connecting the horses with the car and they were not hurt. Strange to say no one in the crowded car received injury other than some slight bruises. The car was one of the long, open cars with temporary canvas sides and was broken down.

Elisha Jewett, who was the oldest man in Franklin county, died in West Freeman, recently, at the age of ninety-three years. Mr. Jewett was born in Shapleigh, and in 1800 his father's family moved to Industry, carrying all their goods on an ox team and crossing the Androscoggin on the ice. At that time, the only building in Lewiston or Auburn was a small mill on the Auburn side. Mr. Jewett was a blacksmith by trade, and served his country in the war of 1812. He afterwards lived in Norridgewock, Farmington and Strong, of which latter place he was collector of taxes for five years.

Kennebec

The Sentinel is informed that the group of buildings in front of Dunn block, Waterville, with one exception, have been purchased, in order to clear up the lot for a public park in connection with the grounds of the Lockwood Mills.

A despatch from Fairfield says: Recent rains have raised the Kennebec River, bringing down a large number of logs. The Somerset boom in Fairfield has broken repeatedly and the logs are running through without being checked. The Fairfield boom below is filled to overflowing. A large jam of logs has formed at the head of the boom containing fifteen million feet and piled thirty feet high. The proprietors dare not break the jam for fear it will go through in a body and sweep the river below of logs and booms. The heat water will leave the logs this season, high up the banks, making it expensive driving for the lumbermen.

It has been noticed for a few years past that the number of robins that annually return to Waterville to raise their young, is constantly growing less. The late Dr. Crosby, who was a close observer of such things, thought there were two prominent causes for this. One was that the young were taken from the nests in the night by cats. The robin builds among the large branches, easily accessible to cats, and the kind known as "coon cats" go up a tree like a squirrel, other kinds learning, of course. The other cause was that in many families the children were allowed to rob nests for the sake of obtaining large numbers of eggs. He found the parents in one case approving an exhibition of over a hundred eggs gathered by two boys in a single season. The usefulness of these birds, to say nothing else in their favor, should commend them to better treatment. Children are, no doubt, benefitted by being taught to love and admire birds, and the habit of shooting them and robbing their nests as surely debases and brutalizes them.

Knox.

The run of alewives in Warren exceeds anything of the kind for many years, says the Rockland Opinion. Seventy-eight thousand were caught in one afternoon.

Oxford

Mr. George F. Knox, for some years connected with Tiffany & Co., New York, has contributed a paper on "The Mining Resources of the United States" which has been published in a government report. He states that systematic mining for precious gems is only being carried on at two points in the United States, Paris, Maine and Stony Point, North Carolina. Some twenty-eight minerals occur in the United States which have been used as gems, and of this number twelve occur in the United States only. It is intimated that the value of the tourmalines taken from Mt. Mica, Paris, is between $50,000 and $65,000.

Waldo.

The Industrial Journal says Mathews Bros., Belfast, have received an order for doors, frames, etc., to go to Turkey. The doors are to be shipped all supplied with locks, hinges and handles, and done up in packages of not more than two hundred pounds in weight, in order that upon arrival in Turkey they can be taken into the interior of the country on the backs of camels.

Washington.

Salmon fishing at Grand Lake Stream is said to be the poorest for years at this season.

The new factory recently built at Eastport for the Eagle Preserved Fish Company has started up during the present month. Everything is so well arranged that the business can be carried on in the easiest possible manner.

The Pembroke Iron works are in successful operation. The continued arrival of cargoes of stock, and the great head of water, make the prospect excellent for a good season's work, says the Industrial Journal.

D. S. Farrar & Co., West Pembroke, are [illegible] mill.

The engine, boiler and other machinery arrived last week, and work upon the buildings is progressing as rapidly as possible.

The finest land locked salmon of the season, at Calais, up to date, has been captured by A. H. Woodcock, Esq., with a fly rod. He was a lively fellow and made many long leaps out of water before he bagged. It took three-quarters of an hour to crush his spirit and land him. He measures 24 inches in length, 5½ inches in depth, 3½ inches thickness, and weighed over five pounds.

Fashions

[New York Evening Post]

Flower bonnets are again fashionable. Those of white lilac, with plenty of green leaves, are among the prettiest.

Skeleton bonnets made of transparent gauzes of gold braid, silk chenille or beaded work in diamond patterns, showing the coiffure through the open work designs which form the crown, are shown by all fashionable milliners.

Very beautiful Venetian embroidery in pure white or tinted floss silk is to be used this summer for panels, vests, skirt fronts, and flounces, the bands of the "all-over" work being twenty inches wide. In white cashmere, nun's cloth or ottoman silk of the softly-draping quality for evening or for matinees and Grecian house robes, this trimming is peculiarly elegant and effective.

Muslin bonnets and round hats, tinted and white, with full cap crowns and brims of plaited lace, appear among other pretty novelties in millinery. These are intended for children and also for young ladies' wear at summer resorts.

Fashion is in extremes just now. Either the designs are immense, embracing tulips, peonies, roses and other flowers of exaggerated size, or otherwise fashionable materials are powdered with minute dots, tiny blocks, checks and hair stripes. This is especially noticeable among the season's importation of French sateens.

Red parasols in satin and Turkey twill are still in vogue; these, however, only look well with an entire black toilet or in some very dark one in which there is some color relievance. A deep red sun shade, carried by the wearer of a dark green foulard, polka-dotted with cardinal, was very effective, but these effects cannot be very extensively repeated, since combines successfully with but few costumes appropriate for the promenade.

The newest linen collars are cut to fit very high and are fastened close about the throat with a gem set collar button of hammered gold. These are worn quite above the neck of the dress, the tucker of French muslin serving to fill up the interval. The collars are finished with a bordering of fine embroidery in Swiss or French needlework. More expensive sets have wide Byron collars nearly covered with delicate embroidery and edged with Valenciennes lace, but for general wear these collars are finished with an edge of Irish point lace or of a narrow but very fine quality of torchon.

Silk canvas and chenille openwork jersey bodices are imported for evening wear at the watering places. Overskirts of ruffled lace, tinted or cream white surah or Bolling. These are sleeveless and are quite old gloves five-eighths of a yard long to be worn when these are donned. With these bodices are worn white surah underwaists cut low in the neck and finished with a tiny lace above. Where the skirts are of pink or mauve or any other tint the underwaists match in color. These rich and dressy jerseys are much more favored by Parisian ladies than are those made of plain white silk stockinet.

All the summer bonnets are more or less transparent. If of straw the braid is looped, and shows spaces between. There are also very fine gilt wire bonnets, which are semi-transparent, and countless bonnets made of jetted net, chenille dotted gauze and flowered tulle, which displays the arrangement of the hair beneath. High, square and pots shaped crowns alone are seen. This is a disadvantage which seems to have existed when Mrs. Tulliver, in "Mill on the Floss," declared "There's never much pleasure wearing a bonnet a second year, especially when the crowns are so changy—never two summers alike." The pleasure of economical people, who chose to wear their bonnets and hats into the second year nowadays, is likewise somewhat disturbed by the unpleasant reflection that the crown inevitably betrays the fact of length of service, these being exceedingly changy from even one season to another.

There is a marked prevalence thus far of brown and bronze hues, which in innumerable shades and tones are exceedingly fashionable both in dress and millinery. Not only is bronze itself prominent but all its kin, from gold to every shade of wood, nut, coffee, cream and seal brown, to say nothing of pure yellow, ecru, fawn, and all colors showing a trace of a gold or bronze hue and particularly the olive and moss-green hues with a glint of gold in them which have so raged in the world of art and fashion abroad.

The merchants are making a brilliant exhibition of costumes and fabrics of batiste, sateen, chambery, French cambric, linen lawn and other washing materials, with India mull, China crape, silk grenadine, and the like for more elegant toilets. The short costumes of fancy woollen materials are, however, still indispensable for excursions and for the promenade. For driving and paying visits, where a more dressy toilet is required, very charming and lady-like costumes are made of Ottoman and foulard in rather dark colors, such as dark royal blue, garnet, golden brown, or laurel green, the monochrome fabric of the Ottoman silk and the foulard shot or dotted with pale gold, deep garnet, pale blue, or dark brown. The drapery is fastened with wide ribbon bows and ends formed of satin the shade of the dot or other figure in the dress fabric, and in many cases there is an additional trimming in the shape of wide Spanish laces the color of the groundwork, and occasionally on French costumes it consists of coffee-colored lace, a garniture exceedingly fashionable abroad.

A stylish coaching toilet, designed for a lady in this city, is made of palest gray cashmere, embroidered with deep red May roses. Around the foot of the underskirt is a shell plaited ruffle of dark Venetian red surah veiled with dove-gray Spanish lace. The five panels upon the front and sides of the skirt are bordered with the rose embroidery, each panel being separated by a fan plaiting of the gray fabric, the hem of this plaiting being turned up on the right side and piped with red. The Louis XIV. jacket bodice, richly embroidered, opens over a waistcoat made of the dark red surah, and veiled with plaitings of gray lace. This bodice is a little longer than most of those made thus far this season, reaching three-eighths of a yard below the waist line, and more than half covering the "full" high-draped tunic which falls above the panelled skirt. The close coat sleeves are fastened up the back of the arm with small ruby buttons, and finished at the wrist with a band of embroidery and a fall of lace. At the side of the waistcoat is a small gray velvet sachet, shirred at the top, lined with red, and tied with dark red ribbons. The coaching hat is of gray satin braid, faced with dark red surah and trimmed with wild roses. The gray satin parasol is lined with red and embroidered in a pattern exactly matching the garniture on the skirt panels.

Taste at present seems to incline toward rich material, made in great simplicity. The wealthiest and most fashionable women wear but little trimming on their street costumes, most of these being tailor-made, and altogether perfect in the matter of fit and draping.

Various and beautiful are the tea gowns and matinees which are appearing on every side for the comfort and special delectation of the wealthy. These are costly and elaborate enough to often do duty at the five o'clock and perhaps remain to dinner. There is nothing specially novel in their shapes, being either in princess style or with petticoat and train. The long loose jacket and single skirt have ceased to be good form with most women. Originality of material is much sought for than of shape, and among the fabrics composing the latest are white grenadines over white silk, gold shot surahs in train over petticoats of gold satin, Victoria silk in dark blue, dark Neapolitan red or moss green trimmed magnificently with rich Eastern embroideries and Louis XIV. fonds nearly covered with red Spanish lace.

TO PHYSICIANS AND SUFFERERS

It is the intention of Dr. Souvielle to establish permanently an office in Bangor for the special treatment of all forms of throat and lung diseases. For the present one of his surgeons will occupy rooms at the American House and can be consulted at all hours. Persons unable to call at the Hotel can be seen at their homes. If you are suffering from Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Asthma, Weak Lungs or Consumption, you should call and have your case attended to before it is too late, for many useful lives have been lost which might have been saved had the proper remedies been employed in time. Dr. Souvielle and his surgeons are strictly specialists and use the latest appliances for treating diseases of the respiratory organs. So successful has been the treatment in Bangor, already they can refer you to reliable people who are being cured of long standing disease. A LADY'S HAIR SAVED BY ITS USE.

Burnett's Cocoaine will keep the hair in a strong and healthy condition by stimulating the roots of the hair and restoring the natural action upon which its growth depends. Twenty years ago, a single bottle saved a lady's hair in a desperate case, where every other treatment had failed, and since that early success thousands of cases of Baldness, Dandruff, Loss of Hair and Irritation of the Scalp have yielded to this remedy.

The superiority of Burnett's Flavoring Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength.

LOST FAITH IN PHYSICIANS.

There are innumerable instances where cures have been effected by Scovill's Sarsaparilla, or Blood & Liver Syrup, for all diseases of the blood when the patient had been given up by physicians. It is one of the best remedies ever offered to the public, and as it is prepared with the greatest care as a specific for certain diseases. It is no wonder that it should be more effectual than hastily written and carelessly prepared prescriptions. Take Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup for all disorders arising from impure blood. It is endorsed by all leading professional men.

The Convention To-day

News from Chicago will from this time be watched with intense interest all over the country and especially in Maine. [illegible] the outcome of the contest [illegible] the majority of the [illegible] earnestly desire to see nominated [illegible] James G. Blaine. The convention assembles to-day. Of course it is impossible to form any definite idea as to the length of the session. Some express the opinion that the first ballot will not [illegible] [illegible] that the [illegible] of the convention will be [illegible] Mr. Blaine [illegible] on the second or third.

[illegible] the interview printed [illegible] feeling that Mr. [illegible] the choice of the convention [illegible] very strong and [illegible] All of the [illegible] opponents [illegible] strongly opposed to Mr. [illegible] that he will go into the convention [illegible] lead over all other [illegible] of the opposition [illegible] predict that he will get the [illegible] early ballots.

[illegible] of the Edmunds men [illegible] candidate will [illegible] among the supporters of Arthur. [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] his renomination having [illegible] settling the question [illegible] balloting and [illegible] delegates thus frankly confess that [illegible] cannot be depended upon [illegible] On the other hand [illegible] the delegates from the [illegible] State stated [illegible] [illegible] will give a larger accession to [illegible] strength.

[illegible] well known that Mr. Blaine [illegible] second choice [illegible] Arthur and Edmunds men, and that [illegible] followers of Senator Logan [illegible] also [illegible] to support his friends [illegible] result will [illegible] usually favorable.

The Maine Party

[illegible] the Maine delegation [illegible] chairman [illegible] Hallowell was elected [illegible] declined, [illegible] Wing of Auburn was then elected [illegible] was chosen secretary. [illegible] Charles A. Boutelle of Bangor [illegible] member of the National Committee suggested that Mr. Frye [illegible] to [illegible] Bangor [illegible] position. [illegible] meeting [illegible] adjourned [illegible] [illegible] until the delegation [illegible] Chicago. [illegible] from Maine number 110 [illegible] in good health and high spirits.

Who Will Receive the Benefit

[illegible] [illegible] Hurd also has his little [illegible] for [illegible] [illegible] breadstuffs [illegible] provisions [illegible] from Canada into the East [illegible] The Toronto Mail, discussing the [illegible] of the [illegible] Toronto Globe [illegible]

[illegible] duty of 20 per cent. upon [illegible] [illegible] the United States. If [illegible] friend [illegible] upon this [illegible] try to send some flour to [illegible] If the arguments of the [illegible] customs [illegible] not [illegible] [illegible] flour is protected [illegible] consult [illegible] speech of the late Hon. George Brown [illegible] Senate on the subject of reciprocity, [illegible] that [illegible] the 20 [illegible]

[illegible] duties [illegible] to be felt in Canada [illegible] Canadian farmer pays the duty on breadstuffs to get them into the United States. If they are right Frank Hurd's [illegible] be entitled [illegible] bill [illegible] from the United States Treasury to the Canadian [illegible] for the purpose of returning $7,000,000 per annum, which now flows into the Treasury from [illegible] back into the pockets of Canadian [illegible] Hurd should be recognized as [illegible] member from Toronto.

The Mobile Register, one of the most influential Democratic journals in the South, expresses its sentiments as follows: "After all, the only prospect for Democratic power through a national victory lies with [illegible] states and Congressional districts which voted to kill the Morrison bill, and [illegible] which men like Watterson would [illegible] of the Democratic party. The Democrats who follow Mr. Randall are too patriotic to sulk in their tents and let the battle go by default. One thing is sure, however. If we wish a Democratic victory in November we must accept the Ohio platform as construed by Mr. Converse and not as construed by Mr. Hurd, and we must nominate as candidates men who, like Polk, Pierce and Buchanan, are in favor of adequate and judicious protection to home industry. If Watterson's platform is accepted and Morrison's candidates are nominated the Democratic party will go forth to certain defeat."

An exchange remarks: "The Democratic Congress has been in session nearly six months, and has three noticeable things. It has passed the Fitz-John Porter bill and stolen two seats from the Republicans. The way they dispatch business, there are enough bills on the House table, which have passed the Senate to occupy the time for the House for four years."

HOW IT LOOKS AT CHICAGO

TALKS WITH THE DELEGATES—CONFIDENT OPINIONS THAT MR. BLAINE WILL BE NOMINATED.

[Correspondent New York Tribune.]

There are still a good many absent delegates. The majority of those present are Blaine men, but there is a large representation of Federal officials, probably 270, who make up in talk what would otherwise be lacking for the President, because of the smaller number of Arthur delegates present. The following expressions of opinions by delegates will give a fair idea of the current of talk in the hotel corridors:

Ex-Speaker Galusha A. Grow, of Pennsylvania, looking unusually well pleased, said: "Blaine is certain to be nominated. It may be on the first ballot. I think certainly on the second. He is making great gains in the South. He will get 40 votes from Pennsylvania on the first ballot."

THE OUTLOOK IN SEVERAL STATES.

Congressman Bayne, of Pittsburg, grows more confident with each arrival of delegates. "Make no mistake," he said, "Blaine will be nominated on the first or second ballot. It looks now as though he would get 54 votes from Pennsylvania, but he is certain of 45. In Massachusetts we have the promise to-day of a number of additional votes as soon as Edmunds is out of the way."

Mr. Dudley, of Camden, N. J., and Consul to Liverpool, who voted for Lincoln in the convention of 1860 and who drew the tariff plank in the platform then adopted, is here for Blaine. "The sentiment of New Jersey is undoubtedly for Blaine," he said. "If the delegates correctly represent their State they will all vote for Blaine, but only five of them have yet arrived. One of those is an ex-Postmaster at Jersey City, who talks Lincoln. The other delegate here talks Edmunds. The Blaine men are greatly in the majority in the delegation. However, he may get the entire vote of the State."

Ex-Senator Thomas C. Platt, of New York, said: "The Arthur men may claim as many votes as they please in New York, but when the roll is called they will find themselves in a minority. Blaine will have 28 sure votes and probably 30 on the first ballot, and he may have more, but these are certain. Then there is the [illegible] contest. They are counting on getting the [illegible] votes from that district, when [illegible] shadow of a claim."

REPUBLICAN SUCCESS IN NEW YORK.

In regard to Mr. Blaine's ability to carry New York Mr. Platt said: "The Republicans [illegible] the rural districts are for Blaine, and no other candidate who could be named will excite the same enthusiasm. A large portion of the old Stalwarts are now for Blaine. The men who are for Arthur are men who never bolt a ticket. They will come into line for Blaine as solidly as they will for anybody else before election day, and for every kicker who does bolt Blaine will get two Irish votes in exchange. As regards President Arthur he [illegible] New York two years ago. Judge Folger was the representative of his Administration and the votes cast against him were intended to be a rebuke to the Administration. I have no doubt that Blaine could carry New York by many thousand, but I do doubt whether Arthur could carry it at all."

Ex-Congressman [illegible] Bagley said: "[illegible] Republicans are [illegible] for Blaine [illegible] the largest and most influential portion of the Stalwart faction are today urging Blaine's nomination. It is said that both General Grant and Roscoe Conkling are for him. A number of officeholders are urging Arthur's claims, but they will fall into line if Blaine is nominated. There [illegible] other things which will make it certain that Blaine can carry New York [illegible] sweeping majority. On the contrary [illegible] Republicans feel that Mr. Arthur could not carry the State, and I feel that way myself, although I should support him and do my best should he be the candidate."

CHANCES OF THE OHIO CANDIDATE.

Judge J. B. Foraker, of Ohio, said that he would present Sherman's name to the convention and the other delegates, though not boastful, were hopeful for his nomination. There was not a single Arthur delegate from Ohio, and Sherman would carry the State by an overwhelming majority. The Ohio men were not at all satisfied with Arthur, and would not support him as energetically as they would Sherman. The delegates were [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] they were all apparently favorable to Sherman. Mr. Foraker said that no Sherman headquarters would be opened, but the interests of the Ohio man would not be neglected.

Chauncey I. Filley, of Missouri, said: "It makes much of the nomination of a person [illegible] Of course the convention's choice is my choice, but what good does my vote or my influence do in Missouri for a Republican candidate for President? The State is hopelessly Democratic. I am not [illegible] and should I have no leading [illegible] in the selection of a candidate. The Northern Republicans should have great [illegible] to say [illegible] and what [illegible] should get the nomination. I am tired of seeing the Republican [illegible] [illegible] for the best man. The vote of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio should be carefully considered when the situation is being made."

SOME CHAT WITH [illegible] SCHURZ.

Among the arrivals to-day was Congressman Horr, of Michigan, who heads the delegation from his State. Among his travelling companions were Carl Schurz and George William Curtis, and, according to accounts given by others who were present, the three [illegible] engaged in a very long and lively debate. Mr. Horr [illegible] and used it effectively, but did not succeed [illegible] by Mr. Schurz. At last Mr. Horr exclaimed: "The trouble with you is that you are not a Republican. You say that you will not support Blaine if he is nominated. Now here is a convention composed of more than 800 men, good men, too, the most of them sound, self-respecting, intelligent Republicans who desire to promote the welfare of their party and their country, and yet you say that if a majority of those men shall choose Blaine as their standard bearer you will go over to the enemy. In that [illegible] you choose to put what you call your judgment and manhood against the deliberate judgment and will of a majority of the Convention. If you do that I say you are not a good Republican."

Mr. Horr discredits the claims made by the Arthur men of delegates from his State. He said: "I have just talked with one of the delegates who is claimed for Arthur, and he told me that while he might individually prefer Arthur, he should vote for Blaine in deference to the overwhelming Blaine sentiment of the people who sent him here. To do otherwise would be an outrage and a breach of faith of which he would not be guilty. I think you will find the Michigan delegates all right. They are not the sort of men to deceive the people who sent them here, nine-tenths of whom are for Blaine."

Senator Conger, who spent several hours in a seat near the entrance to the Arthur headquarters, was non-committal and seemed rather in low spirits. It is of course understood that he and Senator Palmer are both for Arthur, although the people of Michigan prefer Mr. Blaine.

CHAIRMAN COOPER'S ESTIMATE.

[Correspondence of the Boston Herald.]

Chairman Cooper of Pennsylvania received a dispatch this evening from Matthew S. Quay, saying that he would not attend the convention. As Mr. Quay has been a strong Arthur man, his determination not to come here is interpreted to mean that Cameron has requested Quay to refrain from helping Arthur. Mr. Cooper estimates Blaine's vote on the first ballot at 333, against 280 for Arthur. He does not believe there will be more than five ballots, and that Blaine will be nominated as soon as there is a break from Arthur to Edmunds, Logan and Sherman. He thinks the convention will adjourn on Wednesday night.

A MASSACHUSETTS DELEGATE FOR BLAINE.

It is given out to-day that Mr. Jesse M. Gove, of East Boston, delegate from the 4th District, will vote for Blaine on the first ballot, and his name is on the Blaine list at the headquarters of that faction at the Grand Pacific. Mr. Gove says that he shall support Mr. Blaine from an honest conviction that he is the best man for the party, and says that the Republicans of his district are mainly Blaine men. His constituents will expect him to vote for Blaine, although he was uninstructed. Collector Robertson, of New York, had a talk with Mr. Gove. He hopes to secure the vote of ex-State Senator Gallagher of the same district, Mr. Gove's colleague.

THE FIRST BALLOT, "OATHS" ESTIMATE.

[Cor. Boston Globe.]

A careful canvass of the situation involving endless talk with the different delegations, all the members of which are now here, has resulted in the following tabulated statement of the probable result of the first ballot Tuesday. The figures given were obtained from the chairmen of the various state delegations, and on being submitted to several members of the National Committee representing Arthur, Blaine and Logan and an Independent each remarked that it was as near the mark as it was possible to get. The figures follow:

Alabama—Arthur 19, Blaine 1
Arkansas—Arthur 8, Blaine 6
California—Blaine 16
Colorado—Arthur 2, Blaine 4
Connecticut—Hawley 12
Delaware—Arthur 2, Blaine 4
Florida—Arthur 8
Georgia—Arthur 24
Illinois—Blaine 4, Edmunds 2, Logan 38
Indiana—Harrison or Gresham 30
Iowa—Blaine 26
Kansas—Blaine 14, Edmunds 2, Logan 2
Kentucky—Arthur 24, Blaine 3
Louisiana—Arthur 11, Blaine [illegible]
Maine—Blaine 12
Maryland—Arthur 2, Blaine 12, [illegible]
Massachusetts—Edmunds 20, Arthur 1, Blaine 1
Michigan—Blaine 22, Arthur 1, Edmunds [illegible]
Minnesota—Arthur 1, Blaine 7, Edmunds [illegible]
Mississippi—Arthur 13, Blaine 4, John Sherman 1
Missouri—Arthur 8, Blaine 10, Logan 6, Edmunds [illegible]
Nebraska—Arthur 2, Blaine [illegible], Edmunds [illegible]
Nevada—Blaine 6
New Hampshire—Arthur 4, Edmunds 4
New Jersey—Arthur [illegible], Blaine 10, Edmunds [illegible]
New York—Arthur 24, Blaine 33, Edmunds 10
North Carolina—Arthur 16, Blaine [illegible], Logan 2, Hawley 1
Ohio—Arthur 1, Blaine 23, John Sherman 22
Oregon—Blaine 6
Pennsylvania—Arthur 10, Blaine 50
Rhode Island—Edmunds 8
South Carolina—Arthur 18
Tennessee—Arthur 20, Blaine 3, Edmunds [illegible]
Texas—Arthur 14, Blaine 10, Edmunds [illegible]
Vermont—Edmunds 8
Virginia—Arthur 24
West Virginia—Blaine 12
Wisconsin—Arthur 9, Blaine 8, Edmunds [illegible], John Sherman 1
Arizona—Blaine 2
Dakota—Blaine 2
District of Columbia—Arthur 1, Logan [illegible]
Idaho—Blaine 2
Montana—Arthur 1, Edmunds 1
New Mexico—Arthur 2
Utah—Arthur 2
Washington—Blaine 2
Wyoming—Blaine 2
Totals—Arthur 270, Blaine 340, Edmunds [illegible], Logan 44, Sherman 23, Hawley 13, Harrison or Gresham 30.

The Indiana delegation is divided more or less equally between Harrison and Gresham. They can't tell themselves how it will come out. There remain to be settled by the National Committee to-morrow contests on ten districts in various states. The above table has been constructed after considering the probable decision in each of these contests. Only one or two of them involves any questions of moment and it is hard to anticipate the action.

Since writing the above I have made several [illegible] rounds of the leading men and delegations and am morally satisfied that Blaine is to be nominated. The Southern delegations are honeycombed by Blaine. [illegible] of the Independent vote being able to present a solid front and interfere between Blaine and Arthur, its components threaten, in the event of Arthur becoming a formidable, to go to Blaine. General Logan is for Blaine against Arthur all the time.

The [illegible] of the Mahone delegation is [illegible] advantage to Blaine because about [illegible] of it is for Blaine anyhow.

Word is received here from Senator Conkling that if Blaine is nominated he will make speeches for him in the campaign.

To conclude, Blaine seems nearer the Presidential nomination than ever before in his history. I hear that even Colonel Hooker of Vermont, Edmunds' old friend, is now for Blaine.

HOW A BUSINESS MAN VIEWS THE SITUATION.

A [illegible] can see the idea of Chicago and its feeling from a talk I had yesterday with Mr. Willoughby, of Willoughby, Hill & Co., among the largest and most enterprising merchants here. They have five stores, and in one employ several hundred persons, and to that store is attached a restaurant which employs 105 servants. He is from Boston and came out here only four [illegible] years ago. He said yesterday: "We want Blaine and nobody else. Logan is the Lincoln of Illinois men, but we want [illegible]. They say Blaine is unsafe and will get us into war. We are not afraid of that. A country as big as ours ought not to be so cowardly that it shivers at the mere call of asserting its rights. If we want to war let us have war. We believe in Blaine because he knows what he is about. This Mr. Arthur will not do in the West. They may get all the business men they please, but I know, from my customers and from intercourse with all manner of men right here in the middle of Chicago, that there is but one man in this country wanted and that is Blaine. If he is not nominated the most apathetic feeling will be seen in the Northwest."

A [illegible] CONCERNING CONKLING.

[Special Dispatch to the Boston Journal.]

ALBANY, N. Y., June 1. The rumor prevails here that Conkling is taking a keen interest in the fortunes of Blaine at Chicago, and that in the event of a nomination his cause will be actively undertaken by Conkling on the stump.

One hundred and twenty ocean going steamers are now laid up on the Tyne and the Wear [illegible] and at Leith in consequence of the depressed state of the shipping in England.

The experiment of ploughing by steam, which appears to have been successful in Dakota, says the Providence Journal, is a matter of high consequence. It will reduce the cost of ploughing, it is claimed, to one dollar an acre, turning twenty five acres a day. Of course, this method of cultivation can only be profitable on large farms, but as yet the farms in the West and on the Pacific slope are mainly large, and may be thus, as in the case of power threshing machines in the earlier days, this apparatus may be taken from farm to farm—hired, instead of owned. The reduction of cost in this direction, and to this extent, will be a factor of no slight importance in the competition which the American farmer has to meet from India and Australia, as it will tend to reduce the price of wheat to the home consumer and give a further impetus to agriculture. The great wheat growers of Northern Dakota who witnessed the trial are said to be satisfied with the result.

Special Notices.

"Sweet is Pleasure

after pain," wrote John Dryden in one of his poems. He was probably thinking when he penned the line of the last time he was shaved with a razor, and the pleasure he experienced after the painful removal of his beard to have the barber soothe the pain with bay rum, powder, etc. If John had lived to be shaved by such skillful workmen as we employ at our popular Tonsorial College the line would probably have remained unwritten, for pain is out of the question from their manipulations.

Decree of Court.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 2. The Supreme Court to-day, entered a decree in a bill of interpleader to determine to whom the dividend declared on 2016 shares of stock of the Quidneck company is payable. The final decree adjudges that Receiver Pomroy has no right in the dividend and that Zachariah Chafee is entitled, as lawful owner of 4022 shares, and receive $80,440 dividend thereon, less the cost of expenses.

The Penn Bank.

PITTSBURG, June 2. President Riddle, of the Penn Bank, has made a statement in which he says he was ill in bed when the over drafts were made; that the directors drew out the deposits, investing them in oil speculation against his protest and that the directors alone are responsible for the failure of the bank.

READY FOR THE CONTEST

The Candidates in the Field.

WITH MR. BLAINE WELL IN ADVANCE.

Powell Clayton Nominated for Temporary Chairman.

THE EDMUNDS MEN TO STICK TO THEIR CANDIDATE,

And in so Doing will Aid the Blaine Men

Who will Receive Strength from the Arthur Column.

A BOOM FOR GEN. SHERMAN.

Blaine and Arthur the First in the Race.

CHICAGO, June 2. What the respective strength of the Blaine and Arthur following has certainly baffled the judgment of the closest observers, as the tactics of the Arthur men have been to pursue a very quiet canvass, and they have certainly made no exhibit of figures, all the while, however, displaying the greatest confidence. These two are universally accorded the two leading positions in the race.

Edmunds Caucus

A caucus of the Edmunds adherents was held at the quarters of the Massachusetts delegation this morning. There were present between 300 and 400 people, of whom 150 were delegates. The latter were not willing to pledge themselves to the cause of Edmunds at the outset, but the absolute pledges of 90 were obtained to vote for the Vermont man, and it was estimated his strength in the early balloting would exceed 100. Senator George Hoar, of Massachusetts, presided and speeches were made in the interest of Edmunds by Andrew D. White and George Wm. Curtis.

Members of the National Committee will be chosen after the nomination for President is made.

The National Committee

resumed its session at 12.15 P. M. The sub-committee, through Horace Davis, chairman, to which was referred the case of the contending delegation from the first Georgia district, made a report. The report declared the committee considered only the proceedings in the District Convention as bearing on the prima facie case of the two parties and did not go into the merits of the split before that convention. They find the proceedings of that convention of an irregular and turbulent character, with very conflicting evidence as to its merits, but the committee deemed on the whole that the prima facie case was with Alexander N. Wilson and Lewis Blue and their alternates. The report was adopted. Senator Jones reported verbally in the matter of the first Alabama district in favor of Messrs. Slaughter and Trent, adopted. Senator Platt reported in the contest in the 22d Pennsylvania district, putting upon the rolls Messrs. Magee and Flynn, also adopted.

Mr Runnels, of Iowa, in the matter of the sixth New York district reported in favor of John J. O'Brien and John H. Brady and the report was adopted without debate. In the matter of the sixteenth New York district the committee reported in favor of George Campbell and Hiram Griggs, adopted. In the matter of the second Illinois district Senator Aldrich submitted a majority report in favor of admitting W. S. Powell and W. E. Kent. Representative Boutelle, of Maine, submitted a minority report in favor of W. H. Ruger.

Mr Cooke of Illinois moved as a substitute that the name of Ruger and Piper be entered instead of the names reported by the majority of the committee. Mr Boutelle supplemented his recommendation with a long written report giving his version of the contest. The substitute was adopted 22 to 20 and a vote was then ordered on the report of the committee as amended, the substitute being regarded as in favor of the amendment and it was adopted by a vote of 23 to 19.

Vote of Thanks—Powell Clayton for Temporary Chairman

Mr Martin moved a vote of thanks of the committee to the citizens of Chicago generally and especially to the committees on arrangement and finance for the ample and careful arrangements perfected by them for the assembly of the Republican National Convention. The chair stated that nominations would be in order for temporary chairman of the National Convention.

Mr Runnels, of Iowa, rose to offer the name of Senator George F. Hoar, of Massachusetts, a gentleman who in the midst of exciting features of the convention of four years ago had presided with that rare wisdom which had commended him to the good opinion of every delegate in that body. Paul Strobach, of Alabama, seconded the nomination. A member from Louisiana thought as recognition for Southern Republicanism that in naming a man for a position not fraught with patronage it could gracefully be given to the Southern Republicans. He then named Powell Clayton, of Arkansas. Mr. Canady, of South Carolina, seconded the nomination.

Mr. Stone, of Michigan, nominated Roswell G. Horr, of Michigan. Mr. Magee, of Pennsylvania, named Galusha A. Grow, of Pennsylvania. The vote stood as follows:

For Clayton, California, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, South Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Arizona, Dakota, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Washington Territory, Wyoming and Utah—27.

For Senator Hoar, Alabama, Connecticut, Florida, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Nevada, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Vermont and the District of Columbia—13.

For Grow, Delaware and Pennsylvania—2.

For Horr, Arkansas and Michigan—2.

The committee then adjourned until 11 A. M. to-morrow.

Indiana and Arkansas Delegations.

The Indiana delegation met this morning and completed its organization. The Blaine men are anxious that Harrison shall not go into the fight and their influence was felt in the meeting when considerable opposition to placing Harrison in nomination was manifested. It is said Hon. Richard Thompson doubted the advisability of presenting his name to the convention. What the outcome will be it is now impossible to state, but the contest is considered close.

Powell Clayton announced this morning that he was going to work for Blaine. The Arkansas delegation was addressed, this morning by Collector Robertson, of New York, who said Blaine could certainly carry New York State, while there was a doubt about Arthur's being able to secure it. The meeting was a stormy one and when it adjourned without action it was said the delegation stood 9 for Blaine and 5 for Arthur.

A New York Evening Post Estimate.

In an interview with an Associated Press reporter, Horace White, of the New York Evening Post, said "It seems to me that Blaine and Arthur are about evenly matched, at 300 to 320 votes each; that Edmunds will have about 100, Logan about 50, Sherman 40 and Hawley 12. The following of the other candidates is somewhat uncertain."

Senator Mahone Shows More Enthusiasm Than Judgment.

Senator Mahone, of Virginia, has prepared a table of estimates as to the standing of the convention. He says he is sure that Arthur will get [illegible] on the first ballot, Blaine [illegible], and he predicts Arthur's nomination on the second ballot.

[illegible]

Harrison Not a Candidate.

Senator Harrison says he is not a candidate in any sense and will try to prevent the presentation of his name before the convention. What he will do in case his friends insist on naming him he declines to say. The Vermont delegation this afternoon chose J. G. Smith chairman and Col. T. C. Fletcher secretary.

The Indiana delegation organized this afternoon, with R. W. Thompson chairman. A circular, bearing the title "New York for Blaine, the voice of the Empire State calling James G. Blaine to lead to victory," will be given out to-morrow. South Carolina and Arizona delegations organized to-day.

Frederick Douglass

arrived here to-day. He was probably the most eagerly listened to man of any among the crowds in the Sherman House rotunda. More than one attempt was made to worry him by reference to his recent marriage. He with difficulty preserved his temper and retorted good naturedly. Mr Douglass said the colored delegates being mostly office holders felt bound to vote for Arthur, but that when the break came the bulk of the votes would undoubtedly go to Logan. It is stated that the South Carolina delegation at the meeting to-day resolved to vote as a unit for Arthur as long as he is in the field. Should he withdraw it is believed the delegation will divide the votes between Sherman and Logan. The failure of the Texas delegation to organize it is said is due chiefly to a bitter personal dispute between the Blaine negro delegate Cuney of Galveston, and Arthur's son, Geo. Maloy, Collector of Customs at that port, as to which should represent Texas on the National Committee.

The Crowning Incident

of the day was the action taken by the Indiana delegation in respect to the candidacy of Senator Harrison. Early in the forenoon Harrison was requested to quit the headquarters for obvious reasons, and he retired to his room. The delegation then battled assiduously through a three hours' session as to the stand it would take in the convention. A proposition to present the name of Senator Harrison was carried by a fair majority but a unanimous vote could not be obtained owing to the intervention of the friends of Gresham. It was argued by them that Gresham could not allow his name to be urged in view of his cabinet position but friends of Harrison thought that fact ought not to militate against the candidacy of Harrison and that under the circumstances the friends of Gresham should give way. It was further contended that if Senator Harrison could go into the convention

With a Solid Delegation

it would prove a strong recommendation in his favor, as being the only one of the "doubtful" States to come in with an unbroken front. The arguments were all wasted as the Gresham adherents refused to come into line. They agreed that if the delegation was allowed to go into the convention with its hands free and it was demonstrated that neither Arthur or Blaine could be nominated and any considerable number of votes were cast for either Gresham or Harrison then Indiana would give the entire vote to the one who showed the most strength. Mr Harrison it is understood will go with his people into the convention but Richard W. Thompson will appear at their head. The vote of the State will be given to Blaine and Arthur very evenly with possibly two votes for Gen Sherman.

Maine Delegation Organized

The organization of the Maine delegation is as follows: Chairman, Geo. C. Wing; secretary, Austin Harris; Vice President, J. R. Bodwell; committee on credentials, J. Manchester Haynes; resolutions, [illegible] Wiswell; rules, J. H. Drummond; organization, D. R. Crockett; member of the national committee, Charles A. Boutelle.

New York Edmunds Men Playing Fast and Loose.

The New York delegation had a protracted and very interesting meeting with closed doors for the purpose of organizing to-night. Geo. Wm. Curtis acted as chairman of the meeting and Speaker Sheard as Secretary. Sixty-seven of the seventy-two delegates were present. On the outset the Edmunds and Blaine men voted together and having a majority elected their men. Under this combination George Wm. Curtis was chosen chairman, Thomas Cornell Vice President of the convention, Speaker Sheard, of the New York Assembly for Assistant Secretary of the convention and E. H. Hobbs for member of the Committee on Credentials.

Thus far the Edmunds men had voted consistently with the Blaine delegates and having helped choose four of the eight officials, suddenly changed around and voted with the Arthur men, that combination choosing the remaining four, which included H. Burleigh, on permanent organization, George Callood, on rules and order of business, Wm Dowd, on resolutions, and J. D. Lamson, a pronounced Arthur man, for member of the National Committee. Speaker Sheard says the Edmunds men agreed to vote with the Blaine men throughout the list, but broke faith when Burleigh was reached. Sheard estimates the delegation to stand, Blaine 27, Arthur 30 or 31, Edmunds 14 or 15.

There is much Excitement to-night over the selection of Clayton as temporary chairman of the convention. This feeling is confined mostly to delegates opposed to Blaine but there is a number of Blaine men who express dissatisfaction at the choice of the National Committee. So intense indeed is the feeling on this subject that a plan is on foot to attempt to defeat Clayton in the convention to-morrow and elect Hon. B. K. Bruce, colored, register of the United States Treasury, in his stead.

Enthusiasm for Blaine

The Pacific Coast delegation visited the Maine delegation to-night when they were received with rousing cheers, while cheers for Blaine could be heard for blocks away.

The Maryland delegation took a vote to determine how they would stand in early balloting, and the result was—Blaine, 12, Arthur, 4.

Rhode Island will vote for Edmunds, and at a meeting Tuesday morning decide where they will go in case Edmunds' campaign proves a failure.

Kentucky took a test vote to-night and found they stand—Arthur, 17, Blaine, 0, Logan, 2, Sherman, 1. The delegation could not harmonize on a second choice.

A Boom For Gen Sherman.

There has been much quiet talk to-day about the possibility of Gen. Sherman. It is said that a dead lock is highly probable and that at the proper time some prominent delegate might present the name of Gen Wm. Sherman, the band at the same time striking up "Marching through Georgia," when the General's friends say he will go through with enthusiasm, which cannot be controlled. This has been suggested so many times to-day as to excite considerable comment. When objections are urged that the General does not desire the nomination and will not take it, the reply in every instance was, "We know he will accept if nominated."

Pennsylvania Delegation.

At a meeting of the Pennsylvania delegation to-night it was decided to present the name of Galusha A. Grow for permanent Chairman of the convention. One of delegates estimated the Pennsylvania vote as—Blaine, 30; Arthur, 14.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

The Friends of Edmund's Think he is Gaining.

The situation this morning in regard to the Presidential canvass is very much simplified. All the delegations are now on the ground, including those of New York and Pennsylvania. Negotiations which were carried forward yesterday in the interest of the respective candidates make it clear that the adherents of six candidates, Arthur, Blaine, Edmunds, Sherman, Logan and Hawley, have made a fair measure of their strength and deem that the present aspect of the fight warrants them in standing by their men.

The friends of the Vermont Senator to-day are in high feather over the possibility of his nomination and contend that he has developed unexpected strength in all the Northern and Western States and has even acquired some votes in Missouri. So strong are they in their faith that a caucus of all his adherents was called for this morning and is now in progress at the rooms of the Massachusetts delegation. It is attended by all the Vermont and nearly all the Massachusetts and New Jersey delegates and a portion of New York, including Andrew D. White, Theodore Roosevelt, John J. Gilbert and George Wm. Curtis, and portions of the Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan delegations. The caucus numbers about 80, and the Edmunds people contend that they hold the balance of power and can summon 100 votes, which, if their estimates are correct and the Sherman and Logan men stand by their colors, will unquestionably result in a dead lock.

Dark Horse Talk.

The Logan forces have been instructed to remain by him and the Ohio men who are for Sherman, somewhat more than half the delegation, declare that all the overtures which have been made to them have been ignored, and that they will certainly remain by him through the numerous ballots in the present belief that the fight, as it stands, is to any man. This portion of the Ohio delegation has received some assurance of support from Indiana.

In this general view of affairs the attitude of Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana is watched with a great deal of interest. The combined strength of these states if merged with the strength of the Independents or the Edmunds movement at the last, it is thought might turn the tide strongly in the direction of a new man. While the Edmunds men pin their faith strongly to their candidate it is openly declared that the Gresham movement if properly supported, would probably carry with it the total acquired Edmunds strength.

It is not thought, however, that Gresham will be named by Indiana. That delegation, it is now believed will present the name of Harrison but will rally to the support of Gresham at any opportune time, and it is believed that if the Postmaster General is named it will be by Wisconsin one of the pronounced Edmunds states.

FROM WASHINGTON.

News About the Capital

Keeping Posted

WASHINGTON, June 2. A private wire from Chicago has been run into President Arthur's office at the Executive Mansion, by means of which he is kept constantly informed of the progress of affairs in that city as far as they relate to the forthcoming Convention.

Washington Banks

The banks and bankers of this city have taken warning by recent events and have fortified themselves so as to be ready to meet any demands which may be made upon them. This morning there was a run on the National Savings Bank. The officers of the bank say that they are able to meet all demands made on them and will not take advantage of the bank's privilege to require 30 days notice as provided by law. Although some deposits have been withdrawn to-day from all the other banks nothing approaching the importance of a run was shown at any time. It is expected that the statement of the condition of the affairs of Middleton & Co. will be given to the public to-morrow.

The Public Debt

The debt statement issued to-day shows the decrease in the public debt during May to be $4,763,241. The decrease of the debt since June 30, 1883, is $91,823,714.68. Cash in the Treasury is $389,379,617.40, and the cash balance available $147,817,000.

Burtt, S. Matthews, H. Kingman, I. B. Putnam, Charles S. Estes, Miss N. A. Bragg and Miss S. A. Curtis.——On Wednesday and Saturday of this week the Bowdoin ball team will play on the Colby grounds.

SAD CASUALTY. Report comes from Lowell of a sad accident in that town. A boy named Olmstead, 13 years of age went out into the pasture to get the horse as he had frequently done. He put the bridle on and mounted when the animal started off in the wrong direction going towards a juniper tree, with a low hanging limb. On the side next to him was a stub about two inches long. As he lowered his head to escape the limb this stub caught in his shirt collar. The horse continued on without any rider and the result was that the unfortunate lad had his neck broken. The father came out after awhile and found the boy hanging to the tree.

CAPTURED AGAIN. Simmons, who made his escape from the station house in this city on Sunday morning was recaptured yesterday at Bucksport by officers Allen and Knalde. The prisoner made the journey from here to the latter place by foot going down on the westerly side. There he entered a small boat and while the Boston steamer was at the landing he got into the wheel box. The police officers were on the alert for him and discovered their man in the act of climbing out of the wheel. He was at once taken in custody and brought to this city late yesterday afternoon by the steamer Queen City. Last night he made another attempt to break out but was this time unsuccessful.

CHILDREN'S FAIR. The booths at the fair held by the children on Saturday last at the residence of Mr. P. A. Buck, in aid of St. Luke's Hospital, were five in number and were finely arranged. The doll's booth was presided over by Miss Marsella Kimball, Miss Alta M. Hawes and Miss Elsie Prentiss. The candy booth was under the charge of Miss Louise H. Buck and Miss Lottie M. Thatcher. The fancy booth was tended by Miss Julia F. Dillingham and Miss Gertrude A. Clergue, the flower booth by Miss Lillian R. Seavey and Miss Grace I. Chapman, the fishing pool by Miss Fanny A. Coffin and Miss Winifred F. Taylor. The sum cleared was $56.50.

MAPLEWOOD PARK. F. S. Tilton, of Gardiner, has arrived at Maplewood Park with four nice horses. Among them is Grey Nose who trotted at the Eastern Maine Fair last year in 2.31¾, also Dust Pan, a very fast green horse and two others, Alice and Phoebe. Mr. Tilton will commence handling them on the track Wednesday or Thursday. A letter from E. H. Norcross states that his fine stud of Fearnaught will arrive on Wednesday. Mr. Caylor, of Skowhegan, has a very nice and fast horse which he is going to bring to Maplewood Park to handle this summer. Mr. Caylor has a very nice herd of Shorthorn cattle which he is to exhibit at the Eastern Maine Fair this fall.

INTERNATIONAL STEAMSHIP COMPANY. The International Steamship Company has decided to build a steamer of 1,400 tons, a companion boat to the State of Maine, built two years ago for this line, to replace the steamer recently wrecked off Rockland. Arrangements have been made to put the New Brunswick, of 1,000 tons, on the route from Boston to St. John after the first of June, to replace the Lewiston of the Machias line. The New Brunswick now runs between Boston and Annapolis. If the summer business proves more than the State of Maine and New Brunswick can accommodate, a third steamer will be chartered that the reputation of the line may be maintained. The two steamers will make three trips per week each way, touching at Portland on each trip.

A HARD CUSTOMER. Last evening Officer Flemming arrested one of those individuals known as "P. E. I. boys," at the foot of Exchange street, for creating a disturbance, and started him for the station. The fellow was exceedingly abusive and made a great deal of noise until he reached Kenduskeag Bridge when he refused to go any further. In the struggle that followed the prisoner lost some money from his pocket and when the officer attempted to recover it for him the brute caught his hand in his mouth and had it not been for a heavy gold band ring the officer would probably have lost a finger. As it was, the finger was badly bruised and the ring bent so that it was necessary to file it off. Officer Arnold then appeared on the scene and the fellow was taken to the station house [illegible]. He will probably require an introduction to Judge [illegible] to-day and he [illegible] that this is not a good place in which to practice [illegible].

A HORSE CASE. Benson Higgins, of Ellsworth, was arrested yesterday in Dedham and brought to this city, passing the night in the watch-house. It appears that he bought a horse and team of a man but paid nothing down and gave a bill of sale before taking the property. Subsequently he disposed of the same to a Bangor man, who now finds he has no adequate equivalent for the money paid out by him.

RAILROAD BUILDING. Mr. Charles H. Sawyer, of this city, who secured the contract to build the Franklin & Megantic railroad, has already commenced operations and will push work through the summer with a large force of men, it being the intention to complete the road by fall. The line is fifteen miles in length, extending from Strong, through Salem and Freeman to Kingfield, and the guage is to be two feet.

NEW ENGLAND AND ACADIA. Commencing next Friday, the New England & Acadia Steamship Line will run regular trips between Hancock, Eastport, Annapolis and Digby. Every Tuesday and Friday during the month of June or until the completion of the Mt. Desert branch of the Maine Central Railroad, the steamer Frances will leave for the above points on the arrival of the day train from Boston and Portland. Returning, the steamer will leave Annapolis, every Monday and Thursday, stopping at Digby and Eastport. During July the steamer will run tri weekly, connecting with the Maine Central Railroad at Mt. Desert ferry.

MEMORIAL DAY AT NEWPORT. A correspondent writes: Memorial Day was observed in Newport on a more extensive scale than usual, business being generally suspended in the afternoon. At noon I. Knowles Post, No 52, G. A. R., headed by Corinna Cornet Band, arrived from Corinna and marched through Main to Water street where an ample repast was served at Meridian hall to all taking part in the ceremonies of the day. At 2 o'clock the procession was again formed, in the following order: Capt. C. C. Pickering, Marshal; Corinna Cornet Band, A. B. Patten, Leader; I. Knowles Post, Jonas Hutchinson, Commander; Ladies' Relief Corps; survivors of the late war, and citizens in carriages. Proceeding to Riverside cemetery, where a square was formed around the graves of Surgeon John Benson and Assistant Surgeon Roscoe Benson, the impressive service of the Grand Army was rendered by the Post Commander, assisted by the Chaplain and officer of the day, during which the graves of fallen comrades were decked with flowers and flags. After a dirge by the band, the procession proceeded to Meridian hall, where a large audience had assembled, who listened attentively to the following exercises: Dirge, "Fallen Comrades," by the band, prayer, written, by Rev. A. D. Swetland of Palmyra, remarks by John Benson, Esq., music, benediction. The oration, by Rev. Mr. Swetland, was an eloquent and earnest production, and received many words of approbation at its close.

BANGOR THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Anniversary Week—Senior Reception—Programme for Tuesday and Wednesday.

The sixty fourth anniversary of the Bangor Theological Seminary occurs during the present week, and the various exercises promise to be of a highly interesting character.

The reception to members of the graduating class of the Theological Seminary occurred at the residence of Rev. F. I. Paine, D. D., last evening. The attendance was large including members of the faculty and their wives, representatives of the boards of trustees and visitors and those of the alumni who have arrived in town to attend commencement exercises. Among those present were Rev. Benjamin Tappan, D. D., Norridgewock, Rev. I. P. Warren, Portland, editor of the Christian Mirror, Rev. Solomon P. Fay of Dorchester, Mass., formerly pastor of the Hammond street church, Rev. S. H. Hallock, the newly installed pastor of Williston church, Portland, Rev. Jonathan F. Adams, John I. Crosby, Esq., and Samuel D. Thurston, Esq., of Bangor. The young men who are to graduate were introduced to the ladies and gentlemen present and were warmly congratulated on the successful completion of their seminary course and the arrival of the time when they can devote all their talents and energies to the great work of the Christian ministry.

During the evening, by request, Messrs. Jones, Thomas and Evans of the Seminary favored the company with a Welsh song—"March of the Men of Harlech"—with so much spirit and expression that they were encored, and responded with "Ash Grove," another song in their musical Welsh tongue. Refreshments were then served. The evening passed pleasantly and swiftly, and the hour for parting came all too soon.

The following is the programme for to-day and Wednesday:

Decision in Law.

The following decision has been received by Charles F. Sweet, Esq., Clerk of Courts:

PENOBSCOT COUNTY CASE

William Simpson vs. Amasa G. Garland, and others.

"Judgment for the defendant.

Rescript

The evidence reported proves the facts assumed when this case was formerly before the law court, and hence it comes within the decision then made, which, upon a re-examination, we see no reason to change or modify.

Without the testimony, aside from the note, the result must be the same. The note purports to be the promise of the principal and not that of the defendants. If the defendants had no authority to make the promise for the principal they might be liable in another form of action, but not in this upon the note, for that is a contract into which they have not entered, nor upon the count for money had and received for all the money they had was received as agents and was appropriated for the benefit of the principal long before the commencement of the suit.

Simpson and Vance for plaintiff.

McCrillis and Chas. L. Stetson for Dfts.

Andrew Kelley vs. Walter A. Bragg.

Exceptions overruled.

Rescript

This action is in the form of trespass quare clausum [illegible] but not liable upon the facts [illegible] in the original declaration. It should be an action of case.

All the facts of the case being averred in the original declaration the court [illegible] [illegible] power to allow an amendment by adding a count in case for the same cause.

The amendment having been properly allowed, the other rulings excepted to were correct.

Barker, Vose, Barker for plaintiff.

Simpson & Hamlin for defendant.

Business Items

A painting of Easter lilies will be seen at A. H. Roberts for a few days by Mrs. J. P. Merrill.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Is designed to meet the wants of those who need a medicine to build them up, give them an appetite, purify their blood, and oil up the machinery of their bodies. No other article takes hold of the system and hits the spot like Hood's Sarsaparilla. It works like magic, reaching every part of the human body through the blood, giving to all renewed life and energy. $1 a bottle, six for $5.

A GOOD THING

"I sometimes wish I could take hold of the side of Thomas' Eclectric Oil for I tell you it is a great thing, and I am conscientious in saying I could do a good work. Rev. F. H. Crum, [illegible]." Eclectric Oil cured this gentleman of quinsy of [illegible] standing.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE

[illegible] Burnett's Cocoaine will keep the hair in strong and healthy condition by stimulating the roots of the hair and restoring the vital action upon which its growth depends. Twenty years ago a single bottle saved a lady's hair from a desperate case, where every other treatment had failed, and since that time tens of thousands of cases of Baldness, Dandruff, Loss of Hair and Itching of the Scalp have yielded to this remedy.

The superiority of Burnett's Flavoring Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength.

LOST FAITH IN PHYSICIANS

There are innumerable instances where cures have been effected by Scovill's Sarsaparilla or Blood and Liver Syrup for all diseases of the blood when the patient had been given up by physicians. It is one of the best medicines ever offered to the public, and is prepared with the greatest care as a specific for such diseases. It is no wonder that it should be more efficient than hastily written and carelessly prepared prescriptions. Take Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup for all disorders arising from impure blood. It is endorsed by all leading professional men.

Agricultural.

Insect Foes in the Apple Orchard.

There is hardly a subject of more general importance to the farmer and fruit grower than the one relating to the best method of managing our orchards so as to prevent the annual damage which is occasioned by noxious insects.

To fruit growers, one of the most dreaded pests is the spring canker-worm. This insect is the one that strips the trees of their foliage, leaving them with the appearance of having been scorched with fire. If possible, the female moth, which is wingless, should be prevented from ascending the trunk of the tree. The most practical method of accomplishing this is to put a band of canvass, or any kind of cloth, one foot in width, around the body of the tree, and apply with a brush a thick coating of coal tar and molasses, printers' ink, or the sediment of kerosene oil. As soon as dry, another coating should be applied. This may be done at an expense not exceeding four or five cents. Good success has attended the practice of wheat or other straw, a thickness of three quarters of an inch, around the body of the tree, tying it at the upper edge very tightly with twine, and letting the lower ends project outwardly, from the tree. The moths that collect underneath can be destroyed by striking the straw below the twine with cushioned mallet of concave form.

If the foregoing suggestions have been neglected, and the destruction of the leaves has been begun, the next thing to be done is to spray the trees by means of a force pump and hose, using a solution of one-half a pound of Paris green, or a little less of London purple, to twenty-five gallons of water. Spray each tree sufficiently to wet all the leaves. Insert the nozzle of the hose into the liquid often, so as to keep the preparation well mixed. Do not let any animals graze under the sprayed trees until after a heavy rain has washed the poison into the grass.

Another insect which is quite as much dreaded as the canker-worm is the codling-moth, or apple worm (Carpocapsa pomonella). The preventive measures are to stock the orchard with hogs or sheep, to gather and feed all the fruit as soon as it falls. Early each spring scrape off the rough bark of the trunk, and burn it, and wash the body of the tree with an alkaline wash made from soft soap containing, at least, twenty-five per cent of potash. To this soap add one-fourth its weight of flour of sulphur, and use one pound of this mixture to each gallon of [illegible]

Prof. Popenoe, State Entomologist of Kansas, says that the first brood of the codling-moth appears when the apples are young, and lays its eggs in the calyx of the fruit. This is the time when spraying, for the canker-worm, is effective. This treatment is, of course, available only in reaching the first brood of the worms. The second, if they appear in summer, should be trapped, so far as may be, by banding the trees and killing the worms attracted to these bands as suit their transforming places. A band of straw will answer the purpose, but one of woolen or [illegible] is better, as they can be fastened tightly with a single tack, taken off [illegible], and the worms destroyed by running the rags through a clothes-wringer before the transformation takes place. It is only effective in reducing the number of future moths, and so of future apple worms from the eggs of these moths.

One should continue the experiment with insecticides. Experiments already made indicate that an emulsion of petroleum, consisting of two parts of the best kerosene and one part of sour milk, thoroughly churned until a butter is formed, and then diluted with water to the desired strength, will serve as a most excellent substitute for the poisonous compounds that have been so extensively used during the last decade. If, as it is to be hoped, this emulsion experiment will, for the purpose of destroying our insect foes in the apple orchard and elsewhere, prove effective, Prof. C. V. Riley, the distinguished entomologist who first discovered it, will be entitled to the thanks of his ever-widening circle of friends, who fully appreciate the great value of his entomological researches to those who follow fruit growing for pleasure and profit.

[illegible] sprinkled over cabbages is said to be an excellent remedy for the cabbage worm. Ashes are also good. If cabbages are set out early and are pushed, the early ones at least, will mostly escape the [illegible]

Sweet corn stalks or other upright and late plants may be profitably planted between rows of early peas or other early vegetables. By the time the corn needs most the ground the peas are out of the way.

All kinds of growth may be turned out at this date. Plants are pining for plenty of air and sunlight, and they who have faithfully plied the watering pot night and morning are glad to give their charge over to Dame Nature.

Where apple trees are trimmed in spring in grass land, it is a too common practice to leave the trimmings on the ground all the fall. A luxuriant growth of grass then starts under this double shade of tree and bough, but it is watery and innutritious. Cows will not touch it when they can get other grass.

[illegible]'s Magazine gives the experience of a gardener who always succeeds in growing radishes free from worms by using constantly for radish growing a particular piece of sandy ground in the corner of his garden, and by spading in thoroughly every spring two inches of leached ashes.

A very interesting and valuable experiment has been recently completed at the Michigan State Agricultural College, in regard to the amount of moisture taken up by coarse and fine soils. Ordinary gravelly soil was selected for the experiment. It was all sifted through a sieve having nine meshes to the square inch. What passed through the sieve was passed through a second, having 121 meshes to the square inch. This sieve allowed all particles not over one-twelfth of an inch in diameter to pass. All which failed to pass through was called lot No. 1. The finer portion was put into a third sieve containing 256 meshes to the square inch, and all that failed to pass was called lot No. 2. This lot contained earth composed of fragments between a twelfth and a sixteenth of an inch in diameter. The residue was put into a fourth sieve containing 1584 meshes to the square inch. All that failed to pass was lot No. 3, and the very fine portion that passed through was marked No. 4. These different samples were then exactly saturated with water. Lot No. 4 took up and retained thirty per cent. of its own weight of water; No. 3, twenty-nine per cent.; No. 2, 18 4-6 per cent.; No. 1, nearly nine per cent. It was also found that the soil that took up the most water retained it the longest. This is another proof of the value of making soil fine. Sample No. 4, held over three times as much moisture as sample No. 1.

A story is told of an old-fashioned farmer who had an old axe and saw stolen from his shed. At first he was disconsolate, as he had the tools in use nearly fifteen years, but necessity obliged him to purchase new ones in their place. He was so much surprised at the ease with which the new tools worked that, of his own accord, with no agent urging, he went to the hardware store, purchased a new kit of all tools that he wanted and threw the others away. He had lost more value in time working with poor tools than would buy new ones twice over.

The old-fashioned sweet or flowering pea is excelled by few flowers in all that makes a plant popular. Fragrant, beautiful, hardy, easily grown, it should never lose its place in the farmer's garden. In fact, it might, with great advantage, be substituted for many of the fancier flowers of fine estates. Almost any culture will suit it, and the reward for its planting is always sure. If one has not time to make poles for it, give it room and let it trail over the ground. In this manner it will make a tangled mass of great beauty. Mixed seeds of different colors are preferable.

LETTER CARRIERS

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on, and they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning, noon and evening in season for important mails.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M. and from 7½ to 8½ P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carrier's department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window) when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

The public are earnestly recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with printed return request, as the expense is less, and letters thus endorsed, if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge.

First class envelopes of above furnished at $22 20 per thousand.

Stamps cut from Stamped Envelopes cannot be used in prepaying postage. (The use of such Stamps is punishable by a fine of fifty dollars.) Stamped Envelopes, spoiled in directing, are redeemed at the office.

Weekly Courier.

CAMPAIGN EDITION FOR 1884.

The proprietors of the WHIG AND COURIER, in compliance with requests by many leading Republicans, and with a desire to promote the dissemination of Republican principles, and to aid in assuring the most emphatic Republican triumph in the approaching Presidential election, have decided to furnish the WEEKLY COURIER for six months during the campaign at a price hardly covering the cost of the white paper. The COURIER is the largest weekly paper published in New England, each number is accompanied with a two page supplement, and will be furnished

Six Months from Date of Subscribing, for 50 Cents.

This offer to continue until July 1st, 1884. Send in subscriptions at once.

The Republican Town Committees and all citizens who are interested in the success of the Republican cause, are invited to aid us in placing the campaign edition of the WEEKLY COURIER in the hands of every voter who is not now a subscriber.

HOW TO CURE
SKIN DISEASES
Disfiguring Humors, Humiliating Eruptions, Itching and Burning Tortures.

SALT RHEUM or Eczema, Psoriasis, Scalled Head, Infantile or Birth Humors, and every form of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Scrofulous, Inherited, Contagious and Copper-Colored Diseases of the Blood, Skin and Scalp, with Loss of Hair, are positively cured by CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, the great Skin Cures and Beautifiers, externally, when all known remedies and the best physicians fail.

GREATEST ON EARTH

CUTICURA REMEDIES are the greatest medicines on earth. Had the worst case Salt Rheum in this country. My mother had it twenty years, and in fact died from it. I believe CUTICURA would have saved her life. My arms, breast and head were covered for three years, which nothing relieved or cured until I used the CUTICURA RESOLVENT internally and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally.

J. W. ADAMS, Newark, O.

Great BLOOD MEDICINES.

The half has not been told as to the great curative powers of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. I have paid hundreds of dollars for medicines to cure diseases of the blood and skin, and never found anything yet to equal the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

BALDWIN
REFRIGERATOR.
—FOR—
Preserving Qualities, Convenience and Economy of Ice, They Have no Equal.

The internal construction is such as to secure a perfect circulation, the ice being placed in such a manner as to cause an uneven balance of the atmosphere, it being colder than on the opposite side, thus causing a circulation or constant motion of the air, it passing down through the ice chamber, and up through the provision apartments, the air passing through the ice chamber all moisture and impurities which it contains are condensed by the ice, and pass off with the drip, thus securing not only a cold but a perfectly pure and dry atmosphere, THE THREE CONDITIONS NECESSARY FOR THE PRESERVATION OF ANY PERISHABLE ARTICLE.

We cannot give a full description, but will furnish, on application, descriptive circulars, etc. Parties interested in refrigerators are invited to examine and test them.

READ THE FOLLOWING.

From His Excellency J. L. Barstow, Governor of Vermont.

SHELBURNE, Vt., Aug. 8th, 1881.

Baldwin Manufacturing Co.:—

In 1879 I bought the best Refrigerator I could find and have had it in constant use since that time. This Summer I have thoroughly tested your Refrigerator and had it in use, side by side with the old one, and carefully compared their merits. I find that with the same amount of ice in each, yours is from 8 to 12 degrees colder in all its compartments, and that the ice in it lasts nearly twice as long. The dryness of a refrigerator is almost as important as its coolness. To test in this respect by placing 4 ounces of same lime in the bottom of each, it was slacked to fine powder by absorption of moisture in the old one in 48 hours, while in yours it was not so reduced for 8 days, thus showing the remarkable superiority of your refrigerator in the three points of coolness, economy and dryness. Truly yours,

J. L. BARSTOW

The Great English Remedy. An unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Impotency, and all Diseases that follow as a sequence of Self-Abuse; as loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and a premature Grave.

BEWARE of advertisements to refund money, when druggists from whom the medicine is bought do not refund, but refer you to the manufacturers, and the requirements are such that they are seldom, if ever, complied with. See their written guarantee. A trial of one single package of Gray's Specific will convince the most skeptical of its merits.

On account of counterfeits we have adopted the Yellow Wrapper, the only genuine.
